

Chapter 7 Tool

A Council-Based Structure

In this example, the pastor and the congregation council president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer serve on the Executive Committee. The congregation council consists of the Executive Committee plus 10 members of the congregation (two each coordinating worship and music, learning ministries, witness and evangelism, community outreach and social ministry, and stewardship). The individuals or groups responsible for ministry areas would periodically come to council meetings to report on their work and their needs.
